President and Symposium Organizer, Cornell University's EvoGroup 2015-2018
EvoGroup is a graduate-led organization that brings together evolutionary biologists in the Cornell community. I led the day-to-day organization of monthly seminars and workshops, and was the primary organizer of EvoDay 2015 and supervised the organization of EvoDay 2016 and 2017. EvoDay typically includes 14 talks and 120+ attendees.

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

Lead Organizer, Cornell University's Diversity Preview Weekend (DPW) 2016-2019
DPW is an event that brings in students from underrepresented backgrounds who are interested in pursuing graduate school to participate in workshops, meet faculty, and learn about the application process. In 2017, I led the advertising committee and helped lead two workshops. In 2018, I coordinated the organization of the entire weekend (inviting 40 students from 16 states, Guam, and Puerto Rico with full funding).
